Words by Mrs. Dana.

Music by Mrs. Sue Ingersoll Scott.

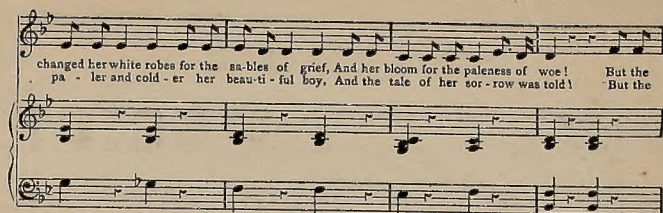

1. I saw the young bride in her beau - ty and pride, Be-deck'd in her an - o - wy ar - ray; And the
 2. I saw the young mother in ten - der - ness bend, O'er the couch of her slumbering boy; And she bright flush of joy mantled high on her cheek. And the future looked blooming and gay; And with kissed the soft lips as they murmured her name, While the dreamer lay smiling in joy. O!

Woman's de - vo - tion she laid her fond heart, At the shrine of i - dol - a - trous love, And she sweet as the rosebud en - cir - cled with dew, When its fragrance is flung on the air, So anchored her hopes to this per - ishing earth, By the chain which her tenderness wove. But I fresh and so bright to that mother he seemed, As he lay in his in - nocence there. But I saw when those heart-strings were bleeding and torn, And the chain had been severed in two, She had saw, when she gazed on the same lovely form, Pale as mar - ble and si - lent and cold; But changed her white robes for the sa-bles of grief, And her bloom for the paleness of woe! But the pa - ler and cold - er her beau-ti - ful boy, And the tale of her sor - row was told! But the Heal - er was there pouring balm on her heart, And wi - ping the tears from her eyes; He Heal - er was there who had stricken her heart, And ta - ken her treasure a - way; To al - strengthened the chain he had broken in twain, And fastened it firm to the skies! There had lure her to heav'n he has placed it on high, And the mourner will sweetly o - bey. There had whispered a voice—'twas the voice of her God—"I love thee, I love thee, pass under the rod!"

whispered a voice—'twas the voice of her God—"I love thee, I love thee, pass under the rod!"

VERSE 3.

I saw a father and mother who leaned
On the arms of a dear gifted son,
And the star in the future grew bright to their gaze
As they saw the proud place he had won;
And the fast-coming evening of life promised fair,
And its pathway grew smooth to their feet;
And the starlight of love glimmered bright at the end,
And the whispers of fancy were sweet.
And I saw them again bending low o'er the graves
Where their hearts' dearest hope had been laid,

And the star had gone down in the darkness of night,
And the joy from their bosom had fled.
But the Healer was there, and his arms were around,
And he led them with tenderest care;
And he showed them a star in the bright upper world—
'T was their star shining brilliantly there!
They had each heard a voice—'t was the voice of their God—
"I love thee, I love thee—pass under the rod!"
